

An outline map of Springs shows the location of the land of many of the early settlers. In some instances their descendants still live on the property, some in the original houses. The map was drawn after 1882 as it shows the location of the Springs Community Chapel which was built in that year.